PROFILE

Communications and editorial professional with over 12 years across corporate communications, public-sector campaigns, and magazine journalism in the Philippines and Singapore. Built and ran editorial standards for a multi-publication operation clearing 50+ projects a month. Reported on politically exposed subject matter for Esquire Philippines through the Duterte administration, including investigations that drew national attention. Developed launch content for Singapore's Online Safety Commission and IMDA. Bilingual in English and Tagalog.

EXPERIENCE

Senior Creative

Iris Singapore (Cheil Worldwide) | Singapore | May 2022 – Present

- Wrote campaign concepts and copy for regional clients including the NBA (APAC), Trust Bank Singapore, and Alcon.
- Developed launch content and messaging for Singapore's Online Safety Commission and for IMDA's age assurance measures campaign — public-sector communications explaining online harms and reporting pathways to a general audience.
- Led copy for Trust Bank's Cashback Card launch in Singapore across digital, social, and out-of-home channels, working within financial-services compliance review.
- Copy lead on the launch of GoTyme Bank in the Philippines.

Senior Content Marketing Editor

Summit Media | Philippines | September 2019 – October 2021

- Led editorial quality and standards across Summit's digital publications, including Esquire, Top Gear, Spot.ph and Spin.ph, reviewing and approving 50+ content projects a month against editorial policy, brand guidelines, and commercial requirements.
- Built and maintained the style guides and content frameworks that kept standards consistent across multiple teams.
- Handled content escalations and disputes between editors and brand partners, making judgment calls on complex or ambiguous cases.
- Delivered content and campaigns for multinational clients including Toyota, Samsung, and Chivas Regal against measurable engagement targets (20,000+ page views per campaign).
- Supervised writers, providing editorial direction and quality assurance.

Internal Communications

Unilab, Inc. (United Laboratories Health Group) | Philippines | November 2018 – September 2019

- Managed internal and corporate communications for United Laboratories Health Group, a 3,000-employee healthcare organisation, including Bayanihan Magazine (quarterly), employer branding campaigns, and employee engagement communications.
- Set messaging and editorial direction for corporate campaigns, aligning internal communications with organisational strategy.

Associate Features Editor

Esquire Philippines (Summit Media) | Philippines | May 2016 – November 2018

- Reported and edited stories on subject matter carrying legal and political exposure, including investigations into non-consensual intimate image sharing on social platforms and into contested political history online. Both drew national attention.
- Interviewed politicians, government officials, and public figures, navigating politically sensitive editorial decisions under legal and ethical constraints during the Duterte administration.
- Worked daily with in-house and agency PR teams on access, embargoes, and coverage, alongside sources and contacts across government, media, and civil society.

- Contributed to publication-level editorial strategy across print and digital editions of a nationally distributed magazine.
- Covered culture, style, and current affairs alongside political reporting.

Copywriter and Advertorial Lead

Summit Media | Philippines | January 2014 – April 2016

- Led branded content and campaign work across six national publications (Esquire, Top Gear, Forbes, Men's Health, FHM, Entrepreneur), acting in the capacity of managing editor.
- Managed a creative team of writers, artists, and producers from brief through to publication.

EDUCATION

Bachelor of Science, Communications Technology Management

Ateneo de Manila University, Philippines | 2009 – 2013

- Major in integrated marketing communications; minor in entrepreneurship (accelerator programme).
- Member of The GUIDON, the university's official student publication.
